Washington Calling

By MARQUIS CHILDS

Strange Contrasts

DETROIT, Mich., July 7.—The headlines furnish some strange contrasts. "Individual Quotas Lag In War Loan Drive."

"Our Sapon Casualties Total 9,752."

You get the feeling the war effort here on the production front is sagging. But I have an idea that a closer look will show that that is not so.

Over the Fourth of July weekend, many of the General Motors plants were shut down. When the orders were issued by the company shutting down one plant after another, the United Auto Workers issued a sharply critical statement. The three-day shut-down would result, the statement said, in the loss of 6,000,000 man hours of production—more than has been lost by strikes in any single month. These plants are making airplane parts, engines, every kind of war essential.

Only a few days before, General Marshall, Admiral King and General Arnold had issued a statement calling for no slackening of production in view of the long, tough road ahead. What about that? Why were those plants shut down?

Ahead Of Schedule
The company issued a statement saying that work was suspended only in plants in which production was far ahead of schedule. It was a valid reason and, as a matter of fact, there may have been other good reasons for the holiday. Long hours and night shifts produce a cumulative fatigue that means diminishing production.

What seems to me significant about this episode is that there was apparently no cooperation between the company and the union. No understanding whatsoever on a fairly important matter.

It reveals a weakness that can work infinite harm in the future. From outside, you get the impression at times that labor and management are looking for position in what is so far a bloodless civil war.

How much it has hurt war production, only our military leaders can say. The fact is that a vast volume of war material is flowing out of Detroit every front in this global war. Carbacks are beginning in many industries.

The real danger will come when the war with its compelling urgency, its imperative necessity ends. That will be the test for this key American city. In more ways than one, Detroit is a key city. Here are the racial tensions that flared up a year ago in savage violence. Here are thousands upon thousands of workers who must find peacetime jobs along with returning veterans.

Must Be Converted
Here a vast, expanded industrial plant that must be converted to peacetime uses. Here, hard at work are tens of thousands who would undermine our democracy. They know—these apostles of hate and despair—that Detroit is the key that will determine our future.

While it may be necessary to brief I want to have a look at this peculiarly American place. I want to see the planes and tanks and guns being made and I want to talk with the people who make them. Decisions are being shaped here that may loom larger than anything done by either political party in Chicago.

Part of the bloodless civil war has been a battle of propaganda. Each side has tried to put the other in a hole. The controversy over the Fourth of July shut-down is a small example.

As a result, both sides have suffered in public esteem and especially in the opinion of the millions of men who are in uniform. The damage done in the latter direction has been serious. Whether it can be repaired is a question.

On one score at least, it's easy to cheer up without impressions. I have talked with treasury officials in Washington and they say that in this Fifth War Loan Drive, individual quotas will be met for the first time.

Before the drive is over, individuals will, in small denominations, six billion dollars' worth of bonds. The total quota of sixteen billions will be exceeded, says the treasury, by at least three billions.

In this one phase of the war effort here at home, there's no serious sag.

MERRY ENGLAND

Merry, merry England! Will it ever be again,
Done with all the heartache, sweat and toil and pain;
Done with fear and danger, sky and sea and shore;
Fit for song and laughter, as it was before?

Merry, merry England! Were the meadows green;
Were the winding roadways ever safe and clean?
Long the war and bitter! Will we ever see Merry, merry England, as it used to be?

Black the skies with fury; ash-gray the ground;
Now the roar of motors marks the clock around.
Blown to dust and rubble ancient works of men!
When will England ever build them up again?

Merry, merry England! Was it long Peace and hope and gladness were for all to know?
Hearts that ache for loved ones homes that wait for song?
Lord, till England's merry, let it not be long.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE "HOME FRONT"

The citizens of this nation are about to enter upon another political campaign for the election of President. Notwithstanding we are engaged in "300 Wars" about the same issues are to be raised in this campaign as were raised four years ago. And notwithstanding there will be a great deal said about how we can win both Wars and which of the candidates is best suited to provide over the destinies of the nation at such a time there is going to be a great deal said about the Home Front.

In reality the Home Front is in a pretty desperate shape. The War against the Axis and the War against Japan can be won a good deal easier than the War against the New Dealers—against the forces bent upon destroying that which has made the United States great and powerful.

The War on the Home Front is for big stakes. This War will determine whether or not the United States is going to remain a Republic, whether or not its citizens are going to possess the same freedoms they have heretofore possessed, whether they are going to still have the freedom of speech, the freedom of religion, the freedom to work for whom and at what price they may choose—freedom to rise from an apprentice or an office boy to the head of a great corporation, freedom to become as rich in worldly goods as their abilities will permit, the same freedom, in other words that every child of the nation has been taught to believe—that in any day some day even become the head of the nation.

There is going to be on one side the New Dealers, who seem to be determined to supplant the present form of Government with that of a Dictator, determined to rule, absolutely, through a thousand Bureaus, just as ruthlessly as the present German Gestapo, determined to end all ambition on the part of any citizen.

On the other side will be men and women who wish the return to the old principles by which this nation has acquired its wealth and power.

In taking sides in this Home Front War, strict attention should be paid to the following principles, which have been the basis of our greatness.

Remember that:
You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift.
You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong.
You cannot help small men by tearing down big men.
You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich.
You cannot lift the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer.
You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than your income.
You cannot further the brotherhood of men by meeting class hatred.

You cannot establish sound security by attacking the interests of the honest.
You cannot build character and courage by taking away a man's initiative and independence.
You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves.

You cannot establish sound security by attacking the interests of the honest.

You cannot build character and courage by taking away a man's initiative and independence.

You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves.

Washington Report

Finnish Minister's Wife Still Popular
Britain Born Lady Plays Difficult Role International Marriages Proving Tragic

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Finnish Minister Hjalmar Procope's refusal to accept this government's offer to withhold the recent "Heres Your Passport—Go at Once" offer until the third Procope baby is born was dictated, I am sure, by Mme. Procope herself.

Mme. Procope is English as you know. When Finland joined Germany in the war, she found herself in a dramatic and highly difficult position. Her own country was an enemy of her husband's country.

"A most awkward situation," Margaret Procope probably remarked in her casual British way. But we'll make the best of the nasty mess.

She did make the best of the nasty mess. She behaved with dignity and much sweetness. Washington increased its respect for Hjalmar Procope because of his wife's loyalty.

When it was evident that a new Procope baby was soon to arrive in this troubled world, Mme. Procope appeared utterly undisturbed by the prospect. She grew handsomer and more serene than ever.

Her baby is expected within a fortnight or so. But until the last week she was going about to parties as usual. Entertaining at one of the many Legation dinners or luncheons.

Her Role Always Hard
Mme. Procope has not had an easy row to lay at any time since she came to Washington from England, the sudden and unexpected bride of the then most-feted of the capital's corps of diplomats. Hjalmar Procope had been and always will be a complete Beau Brummel, a cosmopolitan more definitely than a Finn.

Many women in Washington—widows, misunderstanders, wives and daughters—imagined themselves in love with this romantic fellow. He had a sparkling personality and a special way of saying anything and everything.

If for example he were to remark with bright-eyed and provocative simplicity: "This is indeed a lullaby," you'd believe if you weren't mighty knowing that he was trying to tell you that it was you who had made the day so "lullaby."

A light personal matter that few suspected was always impersonal was Hjalmar Procope's great charm and greatest asset. While he was looking intensely at you and talking of the "lullaby" day, he wasn't thinking of you at all.

He was turning over in his alert mind the very best way of beginning you into helping his troubled little country. And if he spoke of that "lullaby" day in a sort of way to understand each other's tone, that was part of his business. Merely routine. As automatic as the polite covering words used by any good diplomat to conceal thought and intention.

Procope Misunderstood
As I said at the beginning, each one of dozens of women had sort of hoped at first that the fascinating Procope would offer his hand and his heart to her and her alone. Naturally when he produced a surprise wife there was much resentment against the faithless fellow.

More against the successful wife. Actual Procope hadn't been faithless at all. He had merely been misunderstood.

The surprise wife, the former Margaret Ross, was stated at and discussed thoroughly. Soon, however, it was evident that she adored her husband and that he adored her. At the outbreak of the war she was one of the richest women in England. Cool and great land holdings. That sort of thing.

Slowly the strange wife became one of the most popular women in Washington. Her devotion to her husband and her pluck won the attention and the admiration of this town.

International marriages can be tragic in time of war if "the parties concerned" are not made of stout stuff. Frances Bunker Rosso, the American wife of the former Italian ambassador to the United States, Augusto Rosso, has proved that she, like Mme. Procope, has the qualities heroic wives are made of.

Frances has followed her husband about from one difficult spot to another. She was traveling across most of the harassed countries of central Europe at just about the moment those countries were declaring war against her own country or her husband's country.

But she didn't run back to the United States for safety. She is in Rome now. Delivered, of course, that Italy is at peace with the United States and she is living merrily and not without anxiety.

Country Let's send one of the most popular diplomatic wives trotted off to Argentina with her husband, Felipe, recalled Argentine ambassador to Washington. Her letters to friends here show her as a troubled, faithful and clever as she was in the good Washington days.

PEARL HARBOR—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, "Rest assured we will continue to apply the pressure continuously and unrelentingly at every point."

NEW BRUNSWICK N. J.—Edward R. Stettin, Jr., undersecretary of state, "I have high hopes that the freedom-loving nations of the world will be successful in finding a formula on which to base that full measure of international cooperation through which alone we can maintain peace and security for all mankind."

NEW YORK—Archbishop Francis J. Spellman, "America's history in war is a prelude to America's victory in peace."

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

We folks here at home always think of war in terms of heroics and of our boys overseas as knights in shining armor.

I see lots of letters that come in from the boys and you have probably seen quite a few yourself. Those kids that are doing our fighting don't think of themselves as heroes at all.

They've got a job to do, and they are going to do it just as they did their office work, then truck-driving, their delivering of groceries or anything else they worked at before they went into the armed services.

They may be in China, in Italy, in England, in Normandy or in Black. But their hearts their minds, their interests are in Allentown or Alameda, in Chester or Charleston or Erie or Evansville.

War is a temporary job to them—as soon as it's done they want to go back and be just plain Jim and Ed and Bill and Strunk again.

Excerpt From Letter
Here is an excerpt from a letter written to a friend of mine, Fred Rundle by his son, Kenneth, from somewhere in the Pacific.

We crossed the Equator and are now on an island in the South Pacific that was formerly occupied by the Japanese.

We are much more comfortable than we expected to be, but it's hot as a firecracker and rains all the time.

We have a good remedy for the heat. We pick a bunch of coconuts, go down to the beach, swim and eat coconuts. Not too tough, eh?

Incidentally, our mascot, who recently had an attack of mange is now in good shape and growing hair again. He's been weeks old and a mixture of fox terrier and cocker spaniel. He's smart as a whip. We feed him hamburger and evaporated milk and boy does he love it!

Well, folks, this is about all the dope, except I'm in the same outfit that made the first daylight attack on Truk.

That's all. Bullets flying all around him, all attacks, history in the making. But Ken thinks of hamburgers and pups and coconuts.

Yes, it's a great adventure for the kids. But not the way we think of it.

It's a great big picnic—new places to see, new friends to meet, swimming, having fun—a glorious adventure for a year.

And if some of em die and some of em get wounded—that's all part of the job to them.

God bless them and make them come home soon.

QUIRKS
Sometimes folks—people have transient aches and pains or stiffness in various parts of the body. They call them quirks.

They are rather uncomfortable and last several days. They are often due to the use of a muscle or joint which has not been doing much for awhile.

When a young person gives a muscle some unusual exercise, there is usually some soreness next day. It passes off quickly.

The muscles and joints of an older person are not so elastic as they once were. They do not recover so quickly.

Perhaps it is wise for older people to take some moderate exercise regularly every day. Light housework, gardening, walking, sweeping the sidewalk or some such occupations help to keep things in good shape.

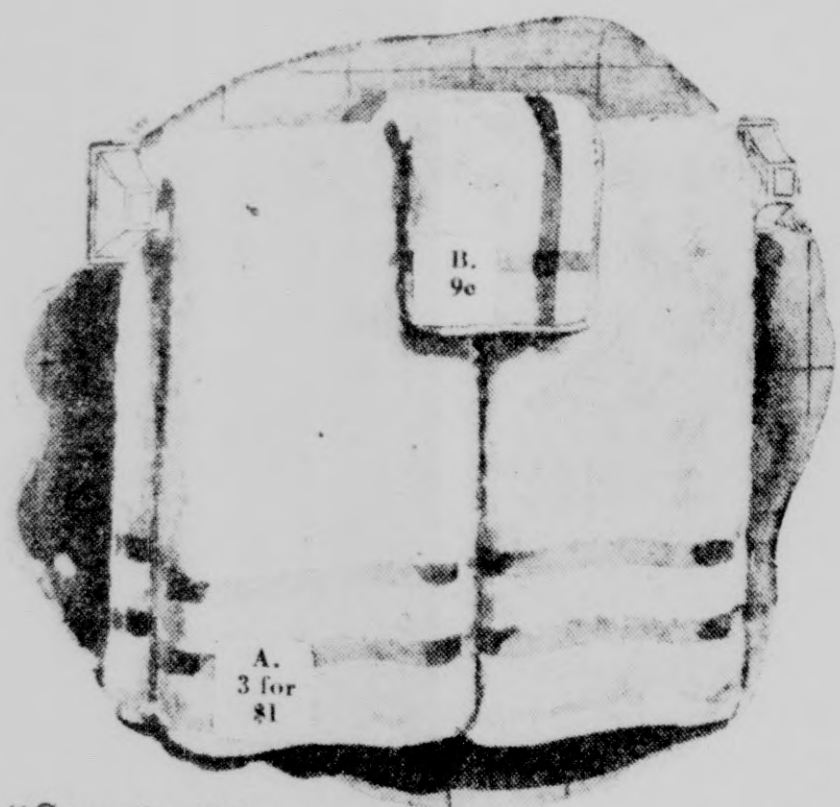

Then if some unusual work must be done there will not be so much soreness afterward.

Bond Drive To End Saturday

Success Of State's Fifth War Loan Drive Depends On Individuals Of Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—(INS)—Individual purchasers were told today that success of Pennsylvania's efforts in the fifth war loan campaign ending tomorrow depends entirely upon them.

G. Ruhland Rebmann Jr., chairman of the state war finance committee, made an eleventh hour appeal for volunteer workers to redouble their efforts, and called upon Pennsylvanians "not to evade their patriotic duty in this hour of decision."

Total sales through Wednesday were $981,872,506 or 90.75 per cent of the $1,082,000,000 goal. The lag, Rebmann pointed out, is due to the slow buying pace of individuals who have purchased only 59.31 per cent of their $442,000,000 goal.

"I know the people at home want to back up their sons and daughters in the armed forces," Rebmann said. "There is no better way we on the home front can do that than by buying more and still more war bonds."

Dry Spell Begins To Become Serious In This Locality

This weather has gone beyond being a long dry spell. It's nearly a drought and unless there is rain shortly the damage in Lawrence County alone will be tremendous.

Lawns are burning up but there isn't much damage there. Pasture land is burning up and this loss is serious. Milk jobbers are looking for new supply sources and if the drought continues another week a lot of milk producers may be feeding hay to their herds.

Potatoes and corn are suffering and the smaller vegetables are drooping for lack of water. Oats are beginning to head and without rain the crop will be a failure. Berries will be scarce if the drought continues.

Two farm crops benefited by the long dry spell, hay and wheat. The past two weeks have been ideal for making hay and ripening wheat and the farmers have taken advantage of it. But for the rest of the crops unless we get a long drenching rain soon folks can kiss their gardens and a lot of farm crops goodbye.

Rose Point Woman Publishes Book

World War I and World War 2 are tied together in prose and verse in a book written by Mrs. Mollie Gray Stoner of Rose Point (New Castle R. D. 6) and published by the Exposition Press of New York. Titled "Under Our Stars" the book contains 48 poems, some of which are prefaced by prose describing the conditions under which the poems were written.

As a young woman in 1918 Mrs. Stoner saw her fiance leave for service in France. She set down her emotions in poetry and the course of the war can be found running through the verses.

In this war she has sons of her own in service and again she has set down her emotions of another world conflict in verse. There is a sameness and yet a difference between the verses of the two wars. In one the heart of a betrayed maid speaks. In the other it is the heart of a mother who knows that has gone before and what lies ahead. This is the first work Mrs. Stoner has had published and it will probably be interesting to her many friends in this county. The first edition is 1000 copies.

Most Victims

OF CIRCUS FIRE ARE CHILDREN

ard Aylesworth, reported to be the chief canvas man; Edward Berst, chief electrician, and David W. Blachfield, chief wagon and tractor man.

An indication that the conflagration might have been of incendiary origin was given by Hal Oler, circus press agent. Some public officials at first reported that they believed the fire was caused by a cigarette, but circus executives were inclined to discount that theory.

Search Ruins

While police and the officials continued to search the ruins of the 550-foot canvas top and the 12,000 broken and charred seats for possible other victims, hundreds of grief-stricken relatives sought frantically for missing children. Still others fearfully filed mass rows on row of charred and trampled bodies lying on cots in the Hartford state armory in an attempt to identify the victims of the worst circus disaster in history.

Many of the injured who jammed Hartford's four hospitals, are in critical condition and may soon be pronounced dead. Identification of the dead is proceeding slowly because many of the bodies are burned beyond recognition.

Stark tragedy, that developed when flames first started to consume the giant tent and precipitated the deadly rush for exits soon after the afternoon performance started, continued to be experienced by the survivors who sought out their loved ones in temporary morgues.

No Performers Killed

Not a single circus performer was killed nor were any of the show's 1,000 animals injured in the fire, a survey showed. Damage was estimated by Oler to be about $300,000. It was disclosed that as soon as the authorities release the circus, it will return to its winter quarters at Sarasota, Fla. to assemble new equipment before resuming its road tour.

It was reported by some eye-witnesses that the first small sheet of flame which attacked one of the big sidewalls of the tent could have been extinguished "with a bucket of water." But the rapidly expanding fire and intense heat drove back three others who attempted to reach it.

Scene Of Horror Grows

From then on, the scene of horror grew. It was incredible, some of the survivors said, how quickly the canvas canopy became enveloped by the leaping flames. Whole sections of burning canvas fell upon the spectators, setting their clothing afire and trapping them in the resultant confusion and mad rush for the exits or anywhere they thought they might escape.

The screams of mothers and their children rose in a crescendo that added to the general terror. Yet each five minutes in the hospital and approximately the same number of women perished.

One of the more important aspects of the disaster involved the burning of at least 60 bodies against the steel runway used to lead animals to and from the circus rings. Mayor Mortensen said these runways blocked an entire end of the arena, thus cutting off escape to the exits.

Tight police lines were thrown around the disaster scene where hundreds of frantic mothers and fathers ran to and fro seeking their children. Police rounded up children who either had escaped from the flaming tent or had become separated from their parents. Mothers and fathers were joyously when they found their offspring safe in the police corral.

Doctors and nurses toiled for many hours treating the injured and the injured. And there were priests on hand to administer the last rites to the dying.

Many Ready To Assist All-Year Recreation Here

Announcement was made today at city hall of the names of chairman and precinct captains who have volunteered to assist a campaign by which funds will be raised for year-around recreation, the only move of its kind yet made here. Every section of the city will benefit by the non-political project according to arrangements.

Some time ago Mayor John F. Haven called a mass meeting which was well attended and after he had outlined the plans it was approved by the Greater New Castle association. According to the mayor every ward will elect its own representative to a committee of eight.

Every cent of the money raised will be expended by this committee for year-around permanent recreation. Each ward will have one representative empowered to vote. To lessen deadlock chances, Judge W. Walter Bradham, Professor Frank Burton and Mayor John F. Haven, chairman will also have a vote. They were named by the GNCA.

"I have lived here more than a score and 10 years and have performed my obligations and also contributed to every worthwhile movement. I never saw a movement here which would provide recreation for all of the children the year-around, hence I believe that a move of this kind, which will be non-political and handled by the people themselves, will be worth-while," the mayor stated.

Should sufficient funds be raised there will be sledding, ice skating, other forms of recreation and also bathing pools located so advantageously they may be reached and used by all the people. The ward representatives will be named by the people of different precincts. They will not be named by anyone except by the people in their individual wards.

No one ward will have more representation than any other ward regardless of population or value of property. His Honor stated. The campaign will start in late July.

Volunteers Named
The persons who have volunteered to launch the campaign are as follows:

First ward: Chairman, Mrs. J. A.

Public Warning!

BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

War-time living conditions may be the cause of spreading Pin-Worm infection. Scientific reports in many communities have shown at least one-third of the children and grown-ups to be victims of Pin-Worms—often without knowing what was wrong!

Watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself: the tormenting, embarrassing, itching, the uneasy stomach, bad-wetting, nervous fidgeting, flabby appetite.

New Discovery Hailed By Doctors
After centuries of distress caused by Pin-Worms, a new and highly effective way to deal with this stubborn pest has recently been discovered. This scientific discovery, hailed by medical authorities as a remarkable drug (containing violet), it is the vital element in P.W., the new Pin-Worm treatment developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines. P-W tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to destroy the creatures.

So don't take chances with Pin-Worms. At the first warning sign, ask your druggist for P-W, and follow the directions. P-W means Pin-Worm relief!

Storage Rooms And Freezers Make High Summer Temperatures Welcome Again

Whether you want to believe it or not, there are places in town where you'd much rather have a coat on than be without it, even on days like this.

In the wholesale produce houses, for example, where crates of muskmelons and the first shipments of seedless grapes are being stored away in rooms where the temperature never rises about forty degrees.

And you'd take it for granted that ice plants were on the chilly side in the rooms under which the ice cakes are frozen, and especially in the big white coolers are stored.

The milk coolers of dairies, where the bottles are kept before sent out in the trucks, are usually from thirty-eight to forty degrees, cool enough to warrant a sweater if you're going to be in there long.

But undoubtedly, the coolest place in town is the room in which the dairy's ice cream is stored. You could easily see your breath if it weren't for the strong wind that blows through constantly, and it doesn't take long to realize that the thermometer is registering six degrees below zero.

The stuffy, warm air is a relief when you walk outside again, but your toes stay cold for ten minutes at least. It's a good reminder of the winter days when you said, "I'll never complain of the heat again."

Books Many Months Overdue Returned To Public Library

From a list of about 40 titles of books long overdue at the public library which was published several weeks ago in The News, 17 have been returned to the library. Miss Alice Sterling, librarian, said today.

Not only that but in some cases books were returned to the library that had been mislaid by borrowers for a year or more.

In one instance a man—and a gentleman—said he had borrowed several technical books from the library some months ago, that he had moved in the meantime and now did not know where the books were. He wanted to settle up.

But because the library would prefer to have its books back than have them lost, he was asked to look again for the books. Only if he can't locate them will he be billed for them at his own request.

P. S. His standing as a borrower is A-1 again at the library.

Bethel Church Drives For $500

Drive For Funds To Close Sunday, July 9, At Bethel M. E. Church

First drive for funds for this conference year will close on Sunday, July 9, at the Bethel Methodist church with a goal of $500 for the immediate use of the church.

Members and followers have been asked to give the minimum sum of $5 each so as to total the $500 that is needed.

It had been planned to close the drive on June 25 but because of the district meeting it was extended until the second Sunday of July, when final reports will be made.

BOND PURCHASE HELD UP

Some delay in the purchase of $100,000 of fifth war loan bonds by the county will probably occur, due to the refusal of County Controller

Andrew W. Dodds to approve the expenditure of the money. Mr.

Dodds contention is that the money to be used is that of the tax sale account which is an undistributed fund belonging to all the tax levying bodies of the county.

The commissioners hold that the purchase is merely a transfer of the money into another negotiable medium, and that the expiration date of the bonds or notes as they really are, will come before the fund can be distributed. They plan to purchase $100,000 worth of the 7-8 per cent bonds or notes which fall due June 1, 1945.

County Solicitor William McKelvey has informed the commissioners they are within their rights to invest the money if they see fit. Controller's Solicitor Ralph Cooper has advised Mr. Dodds not to approve the transaction.

The commissioners feel it is good business to get some interest return upon the money and this interest will be passed on to the tax levying bodies proportionately.

Most of the world's supply of asbestos, now an important ingredient in the making of fireproof building materials, comes from Canada, Russia, Southern Rhodesia and the Union of South Africa. The United States obtains large imports from those places to supplement its own production from mines in Vermont, Arizona and other states.

Postwar Plans Taking Shape

Planning Commission In Session For State At Harrisburg Considers Plans

By JAMES H. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, July 7.—Postwar plans to make Pennsylvania "a better place to live" began taking shape today under a $50,000,000 fund earmarked to prime the pump of reconstruction projects.

The 10-member postwar planning commission met at the state capitol yesterday and voted to convene again July 20 to assign projects to state departments for analysis.

Henry W. Prentiss Jr., Lancaster businessman and chairman, said a meeting with Gov. Edward Martin and his cabinet was "educational for members of the commission."

Governor Martin told the commission that he would rely on it to "consider and suggest the long-range strategy involved in the coordination of the state's whole postwar program," Prentiss said.

He disclosed that among the topics discussed were highway development, public education, reforestation, increased recreational facilities, improvements in the state system of penal institutions and hospitals, sewage disposal and low cost housing.

"The whole program will be based on providing jobs for the rehabilitation of our returning soldiers and securing gainful occupation for them," he said, "and also the re-conversion of our war industries to that every citizen of Pennsylvania will have the opportunity of steady employment at an adequate wage."

Governor Martin and cabinet members presented brief outlines of the postwar plans of their departments to the commission during the three-hour session.

Col. C. M. Wilhelm, state police commissioner, disclosed a need for establishing a permanent training school for "rookies" on the 55,000-acre Indiantown Gap military reservation when it is vacated by the Army.

Prentiss said no action was taken on the election of an executive director at the initial meeting but hinted it would be on the agenda of the next session. Mark S. James, Pittsburgh, one-time secretary of commerce, was appointed to the $10,000 a year post shortly after the general assembly established the commission in 1943.

WMC Wants Brawn For Foundry Work

HARRISBURG, July 7.—(INS)—The state war manpower commission today issued a call for 1231 "brawny" men to fill essential jobs in 42 high priority forge shops and foundries.

The commission anticipated that the demand for foundry workers would rise to 1963 and emphasized that 50 per cent of Pennsylvania's war production program was dependent upon output from forges and foundries.

Former Lawyer May Be Electrocuted For Slaying Of Infant

Jury Convicts John F. Noxon Jr. In Second Trial, Appeal Will Be Filed

PITTSFIELD, Mass., July 7.—(INS)—Death in the electric chair faced John F. Noxon Jr., today following his conviction of the electrocution murder of his six-months-old son Lawrence.

Noxon, 47-year-old socialite and corporation lawyer, was convicted by a jury after six hours deliberation. It was his second trial, the first having ended in a mistrial when a juror became ill.

Former Governor Joseph B. Ely, chief defense counsel, said he would seek a new trial for his client and asked presiding Judge Abraham E. Pinanski to postpone sentence.

The state charged that Noxon placed his son, who was described in court as a "mongoloid," on a silver platter in the library of their home and then electrocuted the infant by winding a charged electric cord around his arm. Noxon denied the slaying, contending the baby was accidentally killed.

Christopher Columbus' "Book of Privileges," granted to him by King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella of Spain as a reward for his discovery of the new world, with marginal notes in his handwriting (Seville, 1502), is now in Huntington library at San Marino, near Los Angeles, Cal.

Butler County Man Will Head State Delegation

Former Judge Wilson To Head Keystone Group At Democratic Convention

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—(INS)—Sen. Harry S. Truman of Missouri appeared today to stand a good chance with Pennsylvania Democrats for the vice presidential nomination if President Roosevelt leaves the choice of a running mate to the national convention. However, Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence declared that the state's 72-member delegation to the convention will support Vice President Henry A. Wallace for another term "if President Roosevelt wants him."

Lawrence made the statement in Philadelphia following a meeting of party chieftains including Sen. Joseph P. Guffey, Philadelphia City Chairman James P. Clark and Cong. Francis J. Myers, candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Although Lawrence maintained that a decision on vice presidential candidate will not be reached until the delegation caucuses in Chicago, he asserted that "Senator Truman has many friends in Pennsylvania," a statement in which Guffey concurred.

Former Judge John H. Wilson of Butler county will head the Keystone group at the convention, with Mrs. Sara Bullock, Delaware county, as vice chairman, and former Reps. Joseph Ominsky, Philadelphia, as secretary.

Guffey and his sister, Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller, will serve on the all-important resolutions committee which will draft the party platform. Clark will be the Keystone state member of the committee on permanent organization.

The cause of tides is the gravitational pull of the moon, and to a smaller degree of the sun, upon the earth. Minas Basin, Bay of Fundy, Nova Scotia, has the greatest known periodic tides in the world. It is said that a mean range of 42 feet and a spring range of 45 feet occur here.

KOPPEL COUPLE WEDS

Miss Martha J. Kramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz H. Kramer, of Koppel, became the bride of Leut. H. Dale Shellenberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shellenberger, also of Koppel, at an impressive double ring ceremony in the Rocky Spring U. P. church Friday evening, June 30, at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. W. W. Willis officiated in the presence of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Clarence H. Todd played appropriate music and accompanied Mrs. W. Gray Foster, who sang several solos.

Miss Betty Shellenberger, sister of the bridegroom, acted as maid of honor, while the groom's father, served as best man.

The couple will go to Atlantic City, N. J., where the groom is located after returning from active duty with the army air corps in the South Pacific area.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER TEA

The Ruth Bible class entertained women of the congregation at a tea Friday evening, June 30, in Rocky Spring U. P. church.

Mrs. Fred Keane presented an interesting program. Mrs. William McMillin, of Wampum, gave a reading, "Daughters." Mrs. Albert Fankhauser, of New Castle, gave the timely address of the evening. Prayer was offered by Mrs. C. R. Shannon.

"Toasts to the Mothers" was given by Mrs. W. W. Willis, while Mrs. C. A. Forsythe responded with "A Toast to the Daughters." Following a solo by Mrs. Willis J. McCuskey, gifts were presented to the oldest mother, youngest daughter, the most recent bride, two mothers having four daughters present. The teacher of the class, speakers and to Mrs. Harold Holles, of Westwood, N. J., guest traveling the greatest distance.

Tea was served from a table, decorated in a patriotic color scheme.

society of Rocky Spring U. P. church will meet Thursday evening, July 13, at the home of Mrs. Wendell Walker, of Little Beaver. Mrs. W. W. Willis will be leader.

Bob Caughey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Caughey, of Big Beaver, recently arrived in the United States from service in the South Pacific area, where he was injured. A visit to his home here is expected in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Russell, Mrs. J. L. McFall, and family, Little Beaver, Mr. and Mrs. James Beatty, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Duncan, Miss Lois Duncan and Mrs. Norbert Schmolly, Big Beaver, attended the funeral services for Mrs. Lydia Little Caughey, at the Scott Funeral home, Beaver Falls.

Mrs. Willis J. McCuskey, of North Beaver, spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McAnis, while her husband was with the State Guard at Indiantown Gap Military camp for training.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McCready, Miss Elizabeth McCready and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Nicely attended the G. O. P. convention in Chicago. Ill. Miss McCready, a student nurse, has been in Chicago the past three months for a special course at Cook County hospital.

Urges Coal Users To Get Supply Now

HARRISBURG, July 7.—(INS)—Secretary of Commerce Floyd Chaffin urged Pennsylvanians today to buy coal now in order to have sufficient fuel during the long winter months when transportation facilities will be taxed.

"Hard and soft coal consumers in Pennsylvania should take advantage of the present slow buying period to increase their winter fuel supply," the secretary said. "By doing this now," he added, "they will be assured of an adequate supply should a shortage develop or transportation facilities become over-burdened by a large flow of war material."

The State Manpower Commission has pointed out the possibility of a large coal shortage this winter unless additional jobs are filled in the mines.

The length of Death Valley proper is about 50 miles, and it averages in breadth between 20 and 25 miles. It is 276 feet below sea level and is the lowest area on the North American continent.

Where,
oh where's the cracker fresh and crisp enough to go with summer menus?

• There's no "summer problem" with Ritz Crackers. No matter how high the temperature soars, Ritz stays fresh and crisp. What a boon that is, especially today when you are trying to conserve food!

For a special baking process protects Ritz... keeps them crisp, delicious, crunchy. Give salads, spreads, jellied soups, cold drinks, desserts a "lift" by serving them with Ritz—the cracker that doesn't wilt in hot weather!

Man Surrenders To Police In Altoona

ALTOONA, Pa., July 7.—(INS)—Altoona authorities today were investigating the strange request of Calvin Wesley Chattman, 49, of New York, who walked into the police station and said that he wished to surrender.

Questioned by officers about this unusual wish, he said that Wednesday he was in a bar in New York and had an argument with a man and a girl during which the girl fell to the floor. Chattman told detectives that he boarded a freight train and came west. Lieut. L.W.F. Haberstroh said that Chattman admitted he was arrested in 1920 in Detroit for robbery and in Washington, D. C., in 1925 for shooting.

United Is Big Factor In Shell Production Now

United Engineering And Foundry Co. Presses Aid Shell Plants

HUGE CONTRACT AT NEW CASTLE PLANT

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—A program which was put into effect during the defense period prior to Pearl Harbor by the Ordnance District will contribute materially toward success in the production of large artillery shell for the Army, it is indicated here.

It was in 1940, at the request of the Ordnance District, that F. C. Biggett, Jr., Chairman of the Board of United Engineering and Foundry Company started development of an hydraulic shell piercing press, which has shown unprecedented speed in production and economies in manpower.

Three have been in operation for making six-inch shell—two at National Tube Company in McKeesport, and one at Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company in Alabama. In addition, five of the same size—400 tons—are in order, two for Bethlehem Steel Corporation, one for Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, one for Oldsmobile Division of General Motors and one for United Engineering.

Building Similar Press
United Engineering also is building a similar press of 800 ton size for eight-inch shell for itself and has one of those on order for Kentucky Shell Company, Newport, Ky. Further, it is designing one of 1200 tons to produce 240 mm. shell for Bethlehem Steel.

Not only is the Company producing presses for others, but also has an Army Ordnance contract to forge and machine six-inch and eight-inch shell at New Castle, Pa. This contract, including installation of equipment and cost of shell, will aggregate a total sum of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000.

At the beginning of the first shell program, after the outbreak of the war, methods of shell manufacture had not been standardized, the United Engineering Company's design had not yet demonstrated its advantages and as United capacity was occupied by other important war work, no additional shell presses were built during the program, according to Mr. Biggett.

Results Widely Known
"The results obtained from United equipment are now known throughout the shell forging industry and this explains the large number of orders booked for the current program," he said.

The United press consists of a machine which has four punches on a rotating turret. The four stations are loading, piercing, unloading and cooling. This arrangement is economical of punches and with handling equipment to permit high speed operation has resulted in an average production of 200 six-inch shell per hour, or roughly twice as many as has been produced on any other type of shell piercing press.

The billet is centered in a holder at the loading station and the piercing is accomplished by lowering the die over the billet and thus forcing it over the stationary punch. Following the piercing, the shell is elongated over a mandrel in an hydraulic roller draw bench operation. They are then ready for machining.

In its own installations of presses and other equipment at the New Castle Plant, United Engineering is utilizing a highly mechanized plan with automatic machines to reduce requirements of manpower.

Worker Saves 2,069 Man-Hours For Plant

GROVE CITY, July 7.—Harold D. Clarke is announced as the winner of the 1943 Employee-Suggestion award, made for the Grove City plant by the Cooper-Bessemer Corporation. He was presented with a $100 check by J. J. McMahon, works manager for his suggestion about engine valves. Use of his idea by the company saved 2,069 man-hours in nine months, or sufficient time to produce 1,380 more valves.

The plan is a permanent policy of the company with awards for ideas that result in time-saving. The minimum award is $5, and there is no maximum amount, as it is based on percentage of the first year's estimated saving. A similar award is made at the Mt. Vernon, Ohio, plant each year.

Police Get Robbed; Employees Blamed

NEW YORK, July 7.—(INS)—New York City's "finest" were on an intensive search today for a light fingered employee at police headquarters, made for the Groves City plant by the Cooper-Bessemer Corporation. He was presented with a $100 check by J. J. McMahon, works manager for his suggestion about engine valves. Use of his idea by the company saved 2,069 man-hours in nine months, or sufficient time to produce 1,380 more valves.

The theft occurred Saturday afternoon and was termed "larceny by a dishonest employee" by the indignant police commissioner, Lewis J. Valentine.

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia took the news of the robbery in a much lighter vein. He grinned and said cryptically: "Somebody's going to get the bone."

Mercer Plans Care For Veterans Graves

MERCER, July 7.—J. H. Muntz, Greenville, announced last night to the American Legion's county committee, which met in Grove City, that the county commissioners had approved their petition for a registrar to care for the graves of veterans in Mercer county.

Roscoe Simons, chairman of the commissioners said this morning that the commissioners would have no part in the selection of the registrar, stressing the fact that the job would be purely non-political. The selection will be left entirely in the hands of the Legionnaires. However, the county will furnish the salary, office and expenses.

Kibitzer Kills Man In Pinochle Game

NEW YORK, July 7.—(INS)—A kibitzer in a pinochle game was sought by police today as the killer of Dominick Errico, 60, a laborer. Errico was fatally injured when he disregarded the advice of the kibitzer on how to play his cards. The disgruntled spectator of the pinochle game jammed the stem of his smoking pipe into Errico's ear and then pounded the bowl with the heel of his hand. Errico died before medical aid could be summoned.

Grove City Boy On Broadway Now

GROVE CITY, July 7.—Following a trip to New York City, S. I. Cooner reports that Paul Campbell, former local student whom Mr. Cooner coached in several plays, is understudying the star in the musical "Helen Goes to Troy," on Broadway, and is headed for a good singing role.

Eight Wreck Victims Taken To Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, July 7.—(INS)—Eight of the more seriously injured victims of the July 4th wreck of the Santa Fe Chief near Williams, Ariz., were under treatment in Los Angeles hospitals today. All of them stretcher cases, they were brought to Los Angeles from Arizona to a two-car special train. They included Joseph W. Donner of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Four persons were killed and 66 injured in the wreck.

Harvesting Is Under Way Here

Fewer Demands For Help Are Being Received, Good Weather Aiding In Harvest

SEE NEED FOR HELP LATER ON

With the harvesting season now in full swing here, there has not been as great a demand for assistance as there was a year ago. It was revealed at the Emergency Farm Labor office here today. Only a few requests for farm labor have been received to date, it was said, and most of these have been filled. Several men were sent out to shock wheat this week.

The peak of the demand is expected to be experienced locally in September and October when the potato and fruit harvest starts.

Aid Cherry Picking

Through the Emergency Farm Labor Office here, assistance is being sent to Erie county to help with the cherry harvest there, a group of 25 Girl Scouts, mostly from Ellwood City, have volunteered for this task. They will be housed in camps near Erie and will be at Erie until about August 1. They will receive competent supervision with a recreational director in each camp.

Good weather is helping materially with the harvest here, the absence of rain having given the farmers more time to devote to the harvesting job.

Any Lawrence county farmer in need of assistance during the harvesting season, or later in the fall is asked to register his needs with the Emergency Farm Labor office, phone 7192.

Japanese Forces In China Falling Back

CHUNGKING, July 7.—(INS)—Chinese troops, counter-attacking in the Luyang sector south of Yenching, have thrown the Japs back about 30 miles, a Chinese military spokesman said today.

Reuters reported from the Chinese capital that the Japanese have begun a general retreat on the Hunan and Hanoi fronts. The dispatch said that air reconnaissance confirmed the Japs attacking Hanyang key city in southern Hunan, were falling back toward Changsha. There was practically no evidence of Japanese troops at Lovang, key city on the Lunghai rail line in Hunan province.

Army Seeks Young Men For Bombers

Army Air Forces Recruiting Personnel To Be Here Late In Month On Recruiting Drive

Lt. Jo Ann Stikeman, who is in charge of the local recruiting office states that with the invasion now in full swing, the Army Air Forces is scraping the bottom of the barrel for good material for gunners, pilots, bombardiers and navigators for big aircraft bombers, such as the B-29 which recently bombed Japan. The B-29 has a very large crew, twice as many men as B-17 or B-24. The B-29 has two navigators, and many gunners, along with radio men and aircraft engineers.

When the many B-29s bombed Japan several days ago, that was bad news for Tokyo and Berlin, because the B-29 is the last word in aviation. These ships can reach an altitude perhaps way beyond the reach of anti-aircraft guns and enemy fighter planes.

Men of 17, get ready for your places on the greatest team in the world, an Army Air Force bomber as gunner, bombardier, navigator and pilot," Lieutenant Stikeman urges.

The Army Air Forces recruiting personnel from Pittsburgh will be in New Castle at the recruiting office on Thursday, July 27, to explain the free college education which can be had for those who are 17. When they reach their 18th birthday they will be called to active duty and sent direct to pre-flight training. The Army Air Forces not only builds a combat crew from the pick of the crop, but carefully selects for each position the man with the best capabilities for the job and there adds the thorough training which makes this all-star team the world's finest.

Recognition Of Gen. De Gaulle Is Not Discussed

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—President Roosevelt said today that the question of full recognition of Gen. Charles De Gaulle's French committee of liberation as the government of France is not a matter of discussion in the current talks between himself and the general.

KEEP UP MILK FLOW NOW

Dry weather has greatly reduced the growth of pasture grass, and many cows will be short of feed if they are fed on pasture alone. Dairywomen who use slugs or hay to maintain the pasture will be able to maintain milk production. Grain feeding should be limited to the heavier producers.

Supplemental pastures, such as alfalfa in hayfields, Ladino clover and Sudan grass, can be used as soon as the growth is large enough to supplement feed.

Shade and plenty of fresh water are necessary for a good milk production. Fly sprays will help to keep the cows comfortable. Attention to details will pay dividends in larger milk checks.

SELECT NEXT YEAR'S PIG CROPS

Pigs that were farrowed in early spring months should be large enough now to select the gilts for breeding. When spring pigs are about four months of age, and weigh from 100 to 125 pounds, it is a good time to select those breeding animals to farrow next year's crop of pigs.

A good practice is to select about 20 per cent more animals than are intended for breeding in order to have a few extras to cull out at the final selection time, just before the breeding period.

The gilts chosen should be separated from the rest of the herd and kept on pasture if possible since pasture grass reduces the cost of maintenance. They should be given rations containing about 14 per cent protein and fed in such a way that they will average a gain of about three-quarters of a pound a day. If kept on full rations, they are inclined to get too large, which increases the costs of keeping. They may become so fat that difficulty may be experienced in getting them safe with pigs.

If gilts are placed on a self-feeding ration, it should contain a large percentage of legume hay, alfalfa, clover or soybeans. When available, ground oats can be included in the mixture at this time, say livestock extension specialists of the Pennsylvania State college.

The burrows and gilts that are selected should be placed on a fattening ration at once. They should make rapid gains so they will be ready for the high prices usually prevailing in the early fall.

FLOWER HINTS FOR JULY

Much sweet peas heavily in order to keep them cool. The season of sweet peas can be prolonged considerably if lawn clippings, hay or straw is placed 1 1/2 to two inches deep close to the stems of the plants to help keep the soil moist.

If Dahlia stalks are too numerous, reduce them to two stalks, and if the plant seems to be exceptionally large reduce to a single stalk. Lift tulip bulbs early in July. Remove the heavy earthen clods, dry the bulbs in a shaded place, grade them according to sizes, label them carefully, and then place them in baskets in a shed or dry cellar during the summer. Nails driven in the rafters of the cellar joists will provide looks for hanging the baskets and thus keeping the bulbs away from sunshine and rodents.

Give the rose beds a thorough soaking at least once a week unless there is ample rainfall. Bearded irises should be divided every three years. Some of the present species may be replaced with new varieties. Remove the seed pods and dead flowers from all peonies. A 4-8-8 fertilizer used at the rate of three pounds to each 100 linear feet of newly planted peonies will be beneficial. A handful of a fertilizer low in nitrogen and high in potash should be put around each of the old plants. If any spring-flowering deciduous shrubs have not been pruned, now is the time to complete that operation. It is wise to remove about a third of the older wood to the ground level. Never give the shrubs a "barber shop" haircut.

Watch flowering plants for evidence of disease or insects. Methods of control as well as other information on ornamentals are found in circulars available at the Agricultural Extension Office, 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

POINTS TO CONSIDER WHEN BUYING SHEETS

Buy only what you need—make it last, applies to bedding as well as to electric and metal equipment, household furnishings and clothing. In spite of the generous stock of sheets many homemakers had, replacements are becoming necessary.

The government has established minimum requirements for thread count and tensile strength of sheets. This information ordinarily is given on the label so be sure to look for it when buying.

For those who have to buy sheets, the following suggestions may be helpful. Percale sheets are made of very fine cotton threads, closely woven and are the best quality though not the most durable for hard wear. Muslin sheets are smooth sturdy threads which give maximum comfort with long wear. Muslin sheets come in different qualities and quality may be judged by thread count, tensile strength, sizing and selvage.

Thread count gives the number of warp (lengthwise) threads and the number of filling (crosswise) threads. The higher the count and the more even the number are, the finer the texture and the more durable the sheets will be.

The number of pounds of strain either warp or filling threads will stand before breaking is known as tensile strength. High tensile strength is an indication of a strong durable sheet. The nearer even the tensile strength in warp and filling threads, the better wearing qualities the sheet will possess.

Sizing is a special kind of starch which is added to the warp threads to protect them as the shuttle goes back and forth over them while weaving. Sometimes an extra amount of sizing is used to fill up meshes formed by loosely woven threads. When this is done, the sheet becomes sleazy at the first washing. If a sheet has been oversized, a fine powder comes off when parts of the sheet are rubbed together.

Another factor to consider when buying sheets is the selvage. Selvage should be firmly woven, have a tape-like appearance and be sturdy. Sheets that are labeled "corn ends" keep their shape after laundering.

Bond Campaign Ends Saturday; Need Large Sum

Saturday, July 8, closes the Fifth War Loan campaign officially and the sale of interest-bearing bonds definitely but if Lawrence county is not to fall in this campaign, the sale of E, F and G bonds and Tax C notes must continue through the month of July. Chairman W. Walter Abraham said today.

A complete set of figures on the totals today was not available due to a rush of reports coming into the Greater New Castle Association offices before noon, but this fact does stand out crystal clear, the county is short about $700,000 in its grand total of bonds sold, with New Castle having the unenviable honor of being farthest behind its quota.

Behind Ellwood City. New Castle has purchased only 10 per cent more "E" bonds than Ellwood City, with three times the population to draw from. The county at large is $1,400,000 behind its quota on sales to individuals. Enon Valley, Big and Little Beaver townships and New Wilmington have done a fine job of bond sales. If New Castle were to meet its quota of "E" bonds this campaign would be well over the top.

Interest-bearing bonds can be purchased today and tomorrow until noon. After that their sale is discontinued. "E", "F" and "G" bonds which are the people's bonds and Tax C notes may be purchased all during the month and can be counted in the totals.

A more definite report of area totals in all bonds will be made Saturday.

Money spent for War Bonds goes to the front. Sometimes it provides spectacular equipment like planes, oftentimes it buys a rusty donkey like this American soldier is taking ashore in Italy. The quicker your dollars go into action, the sooner it will be over. Buy More War Bonds. U. S. Treasury Department

Yes, We Still Don't Have Many Bananas

Lifting Of Controls On Bananas May Affect Local Produce Houses

All important controls on banana imports, as well as on cod oil, metallic mercury, edible olive oil, and all dehydrated vegetables except onions, have been lifted according to an announcement from the War Production board at Washington today.

Local wholesale produce houses have as yet received no word of increased shipments. No improvement could be noticed for several weeks following the lifting of controls, they said.

Transportation difficulties are the major factor holding up shipments of bananas, and unless more shipping space is available, there will be no increase in the local supply. At the present time, fewer bananas are being shipped in than a month ago, is the report. One carload delivered in New Castle has to be divided up among three produce houses, whereas before the war, one house would receive three loads itself.

Egg Output Down, So Prices Go Up

Because of the slow-down of egg production, the price controls on retail egg prices have been changed from definite dollar and cents ceiling to a percentage mark-up, the local Price Panel Board announced today.

The system had to be changed to allow the retailers to keep up with the higher wholesale prices now that the output is declining. Under the new system the retailers can charge the net cost of the largest delivery of eggs the week before, plus the mark-up as permitted under the appropriate regulation, the board said.

As usual, when the supply goes down the consuming public will be paying gradually rising prices throughout the summer. OPA prophesies. Ceiling prices may rise as much as one cent a week.

Used Car Ceilings In Effect Monday

Ceiling prices on used cars go into effect Monday, July 10, according to an announcement from the Price Panel Board.

A survey to secure a report on dealers' non-compliance with form MP-540, which contains the ceiling price lists, will be conducted by the Board beginning Monday.

Dewey And Wife Visiting Farm

Citizens Of Pawling, N. Y. Wait Long Time To Honor G. O. P. Presidential Candidate

By LEO W. O'BRIEN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALBANY, July 7.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey called a temporary halt to conferences with Republican congressional leaders today to visit, for the first time since he was nominated for president, his farm home near Pawling, N. Y.

Awaiting the Republican candidate and Mrs. Dewey at Pawling is virtually the entire population of the village, which has been preparing a rousing homecoming celebration for days.

Gov. Dewey left for his week-end rest with a cheering prediction from Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan that a private survey indicates he will carry at least 300 of the 531 electoral college votes next fall.

Senator Vandenberg, who flew to Albany from Washington, continued on to Michigan after a two-hour conference with the Republican nominee at the executive mansion. It was believed the discussion dealt mainly with foreign policy.

Conferences Planned. Senator Vandenberg insisted there is no disagreement among Republicans on foreign policy and that the Mackinac declaration fits a national pattern which is accepted by the Republican party, the senate and the country.

Conferences with Republican members of congress and candidates for congress will take most of Gov. Dewey's time next week. Members of the Dewey staff have finally neared the bottom of the sacks full of mail received by the Republican candidate after his nomination. It is believed that some of the messages came from persons heretofore identified with the Democratic party.

Gov. Dewey and Mrs. Dewey are looking forward with eagerness to a reunion at Pawling with their sons, Thomas, 11, and John, 8, whom they have not seen since they flew to Chicago last week for the governor's acceptance speech to the Republican national convention.

GASOLINE DEMAND BY WAR ENORMOUS

BRADFORD, Pa.—(INS)—War demands 80 times as much gasoline in this conflict as it did in World War I revealed Gov. Edward Martin. Some 50,000,000 gallons of oil products, including gasoline, go to the fighting forces daily.

Business Activity Is Somewhat Lower

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—(INS)—Curtailed working schedules dropped business activities a little lower in the Pittsburgh district last week. Pitt's Bureau of Business Research announced today in sealing the seasonally adjusted index at 171.3 per cent of the 1923-39 average.

The fourth successive weekly decline, it represented a drop of five-tenths per cent from the previous week. Business in the first half of 1944, however, average highest on record.

For last week, the steel ingot rate was lowest since early January, electric power and bituminous coal production declined moderately, freight loadings increased and river traffic slumped nearly one-fifth.

Seventy-Five German Planes Are Shot Down

(BULLETIN) LONDON, July 7.—(INS)—In the first major battle since before D-Day, fighter planes of the United States Eighth Army Air Forces today destroyed 75 out of hundreds of enemy interceptor planes which attacked to intercept heavy bombers attacking targets in Central Germany. The air battle raged from 25,000 feet altitude down to tree-top level, mostly in the vicinity of Leipzig. Capt. Fred J. Christensen, Jr., of Watertown, Mass., a Thunderbolt pilot, shot down six Ju-52s during the day, bringing his record to 22 planes destroyed and creating a new single day's record "bag" for the European theatre of operations.

Peace ConspiracyReports Persist That German Officer Caste Is Seeking Peace MoveBy J. C. OESTRICHER
(U.S.S. Foreign Editor)Persistent reports that a "peace conspiracy" has been launched by the German officer caste reverberated throughout Europe today in the wake of Field Marshal Karl Rudolph Gerd von Rundstedt's peremptory dismissal as commander-in-chief of Nazi forces in France.While American troops in Normandy unleashed a new offensive across the Vire river and a gigantic artillery barrage was opened in an effort to break the Nazi hold on territory surrounding strategic La Haye Du Puits, it became increasingly possible that some efforts to arrange a "deal" had been set in motion by the Prussian military clique.Numerous factors pointed up this possibility—and not the least among them is that Von Rundstedt is a long-time protagonist of the age-old German theory that wars can be lost with impunity if the German army remains intact to fight another day.Nazi Party Man Named
Of equal importance was Adolf
Hitler's selection of Gen. Guenther Von Kluge as Von Rundstedt's successor. Von Kluge is a Nazi party man from way back—although an aristocrat from the bleak Junkers breeding-grounds east of the Elbe as well. He is one of the few old-line Prussians who threw in his lot with Hitler from the beginning and was rewarded at first with the laurels of easy victory in France, Belgium and Holland.Von Rundstedt's elimination virtually brings to an end the Prussian staff corps representation in the Nazi army and makes it all the more likely that he and his distinguished colleagues, despairing of a German victory and looking toward the future, had attempted to negotiate with the Allies and thereby invoked Hitler's wrath.He was one of the original "great eleven" who re-created the German army after the last war in violation of the treaty of Versailles. Two others are dead and while the other eight are still alive—no one ever hears of them.

One report from Madrid said that within the last few weeks six separate efforts had been made by the Germans to achieve a negotiated peace, and it is at least a fair assumption that some if not all of the remaining generals of the "great eleven" were in the van of the approach.A London dispatch disclosed that Von Rundstedt himself went to Lisbon as far back as last November in an effort to find out what terms short of unconditional surrender

the Allies might be willing to offer.
In complete consonance with the peace fever reports was propaganda minister Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels' latest effusion in his monthly magazine "Das Reich" in which he characterized Germany as a nation which has no alternative but to pursue the war to its conclusions.But his article left wide open the possibility that a genuine militaristic plot for ending the war before the German war machine is destroyed in its entirety has been started.Over 10,000 Auto finally, for military preparedness.A. J. Stoddard, United States commissioner of education, declared, in urging the nation and the world to put to the problems of maintaining peace the same energy that has gone into war, that "peace requires red blood just as much as war."John W. Studebaker, United States commissioner of education, added that the unity now existing between the United Nations must be maintained after the war through mutual understanding, which he said can be developed in the schools by sympathetically teaching the values, customs, history and "peculiarities" of other nations.Willard E. Givens, executive secretary of the NEA, said the schools must crusade against intolerance, discrimination, and lack of equal opportunity.The plea for a continuation of military education for youth after the war came from Warren K.

Atherton, national commander of the American Legion.Progress Slow At Monetary SessionsBRETON WOODS, N. H., July 7.
—(INS)—As the first week of the United Nations monetary and financial conference here today draws to a close, the rate of progress in ironing out differences in plans and specifications for assuring peace and prosperity on a global basis in the postwar period has been painfully slow.However, the stage managers of this, the world's greatest monetary show ever held, hold out the prospect that the pace might be quickened in the remaining 12 days of the conference.Although the official keynote is idealistic international "collaboration", it is apparent that some of the delegates of 44 assembled nations are still trying to think in terms of enlightened self interest for their own countries.Yugoslavian City

Military Voters
Being RegisteredIf we might use a military symbol, this is "R" day, Registration Day, the day when men and women in the service of the country are being registered for military ballots. In every precinct the judges and inspectors are on the job registering military voters, although most of the registration is the transferring of the names secured by the recent census of the county.Some few names in each precinct were missed due to various reasons.Many of these are being registered today by parents or friends. All men and women in service must be registered if they are to vote in November.In the canvass made by the OCD and volunteer workers under the supervision of A. Lewis Conn and Charles D. Ross over 6,100 names were secured, a rather remarkable piece of work compared to other counties. From this figure it seems safe to assume that there are at least 6,500 voters of the county in service. The balance of an estimated 9,500 are underage.Aircraft movements handled by

Killed In France*Parents Notified Of Death Of Local Soldier In Invasion Of France
June 12Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Andrechik of 30 West Terrace avenue, received the sad message on Thursday evening that their son, Pfc. Raymond J. Andrechik, aged 27 years, had been killed in action in the fighting in France on June 12, six days after the invasion opened.Pfc. Andrechik had been in service since May 3, 1941, and had been overseas with the American Expedi-tionary forces for 21 months. He was serving with the headquarters unit of an infantry battalion.
No details were revealed in the telegram, which stated that fur-special government bond issues (other than E, F and G Bonds) available during the Fifth War Loan. Tomorrow, the Drive closes officially. Lawrence County is still far from its goal. For the first time, we are in danger of failing in a War Bond Drive. When our armed forces are storming the fortresses of the enemy and purchasing victory with their blood, we are facing failure in one of our major war activities here at home.You can't afford to buy any more bonds? You can't afford not to! Listen to this—Bank deposits are at the highest point in the history of the country—currency in circulation is at an all-time peak. Much of that is idle money—the kind that causes inflation and financial upheavals. Every dollar of that idle money is a threat to the future security of the country.Convert it into war bonds now. They are the finest investment in the world today. The same government — your government — that guarantees the currency—that same government guarantees

these bonds—AND PAYS THE INTEREST ON THEM.LET'S BACK THE ATTACK RIGHT HERE IN LAWRENCE COUNTY

Townships Will Aid Collection

To Take Part In Newspaper Salvage Drive Set For July 15

PLACES NAMED FOR COLLECTION

Not only will New Castle be gathering old newspapers on Saturday July 15, for the benefit of the Deshon Annex Hospital, but the townships adjoining the city will also have a part in it. Numa F. Vidal, general chairman of the collection campaign, today announced that Union, Neshaunock, Shenango and Taylor townships had set up organizations to gather old newspapers on that day.

In Union township, former Sheriff H. M. Reynolds will be in charge and has arranged for five collection stations. They will be located in the following places: Oakland Service Station, Atlantic avenue, 1st voting precinct at J. C. Carr's on West Washington street, extension, 2nd voting precinct at the tool house on Route 422, 4th voting precinct at Sunny avenue and High street, and the Airport.

Other Townships
In Neshaunock township, A. H. Mellor is in charge and can be reached on the East Brook-Harbor road, phone 2938. R. Shenango township collection station will be at the Butler road and in Taylor township, James Vessella, at 17 J. West Pittsburg is in charge.

Mr. Vidal today stressed again that this collection is for NEWS-PAPERS ONLY. No magazines are wanted, no box board, nothing but old newspapers, folded and bundled into bundles not more than 15 pounds each. In the city, householders are asked to put their newspapers out on the curb by noon on Saturday, July 15th and trucks will gather them in.

J. Fred Clarke, president of the Lawrence County chapter, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association has charge of getting the trucks and can be reached at his place of business, phone 2756, or at his home in the evenings, phone 1905.

of the local truck drivers' union is in charge of securing volunteer drivers. There is a need for volunteer workers also, men to ride on the trucks, gather the paper, and pile it in the trucks. Volunteers are asked to call John R. Boyle at the Shenango Pottery, phone 3610.

This paper collection is a double header insofar as immediate results are concerned. The Shenango Pottery needs old newspapers to use in the separation of ware. The pottery needs a lot of newspapers and if the collection goes to 100 tons, the pottery will be delighted. For the papers they will pay the top price and every dime of the money received, save for a few nickels of necessary expense will go into the recreation fund of the Deshon Annex which will be handled by the Deshon Annex Spouses, a group of local women and women who are interested in the welfare of the men at the annex.

Save all your old newspapers, get them bundled, put them on the curb Saturday morning July 15th and the collection workers will do the rest.

Pfc. C. J. Lombardo Reported Killed

Gives Life For Country In The Invasion Battle, France, On June 8

Private First class Charles J. Lombardo, of the First Division of the U. S. Infantry, was killed in action June 8, during the invasion battle in France, according to the war department telegram received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Lombardo, of 1018 Summit street.

The telegram reads as follows: "The secretary of War desires me to express his deep regret that your son, Private First class Charles J. Lombardo, was killed in action on June 8, in France. Letter follows: J. A. Ulio, adjutant general, Pfc. Lombardo, was 26 years of age, took part in two previous campaigns, the North African and Sicily campaigns. He was during the North African campaign, that the young soldier was awarded the Silver Star Medal, for gallantry in action in Tunisia. He had been in service for two and a half years, serving overseas for two years."

Improper protection of cows from heat and flies is believed to be a factor in the reduced milk production rate in most parts of the United States during July and August.

Browns Keep Up Winning Pace

Defeat Athletics 5 To 0 As Yanks, Red Sox And Washington Also Win

NEW YORK, July 7.—(INS)—As long as the St. Louis Browns keep winning, they needn't worry about the clubs behind them winning either. That's the way it is today in the league standings, which show that the three top clubs won their games to keep the American loop race going apace.

The Browns lead Boston's Red Sox by two and a half games by winning over the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 0.

The New York Yankees, behind the four-hit pitching of Hank Borowy, blanked the Cleveland Indians, 4 to 0.

The Red Sox crunched through with a 13 to 0 victory over the Detroit Tigers, based on a barrage of 20 hits and good hurling by Tex Hughson.

The Chicago White Sox were let down with four hits by Mike Haefner who led his teammates of the Washington Senators to a 5 to 0 victory.

In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers dropped their 25th straight game, Bucky Walters led the Cincinnati Reds to a 15 to 4 triumph over the Duncaster team.

Giants Wallow Cards. The New York Giants blasted the league leading St. Louis Cardinals, 19 to 1 behind the eight-hit pitching of Bill Voiselle. It was the first defeat suffered by the Cards this season and ended a seven-game winning streak.

The Chicago Cubs, came through yesterday whipping the Boston Braves 11 to 6 in a wild game that saw a total of 29 hits.

Luckily for the Pittsburgh Pirates, they scored six runs in one big inning—the sixth, which were good enough to stave off a five-run rush staged by the Philadelphia Phils in their night game which the Corsairs won, 6 to 5. The Phils scored one in the seventh and then batted in four more in the eighth.

RATES HIM HIGHLY. Hugo Bezdek rates Glenn Killinger as now head coach of football at North Carolina Pre-Flight, as one of the top players of his 12-year coaching regime at Penn State.

COACHED PRIOR TO WAR. Dick Harlow, now a lieutenant commander in the United States Naval Reserve, coached football at Penn State for four years prior to the first World War.

New Pro Coach

Titular Scene Yet In Doubt

Moose, Bronze Managers Disagree; Officials Should Settle Controversy

ALDO (BUFF) DONELLI, former successful football coach at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, and later of the pro Pittsburgh Steelers, is the new head coach of the Cleveland Rams pro grid team, back in the National League circuit this year after suspending operations in 1943. Donelli has signed a one-year contract to coach the Cleveland entry. (International)

Johnson Bronze and Loyal Moose have not yet agreed where the championship of the first half of the City Baseball circuit will be played off, Sunday afternoon.

Mike Diffley of the Bronze wants the game played at Marshall field, a flip of the coin to decide the home team and the division of the gate receipts to be decided.

In a conversation with The News Sports Editor today Diffley stated that Fitz Rhodenbaugh, manager of the Moose, some time ago, agreed to have the playoff at Marshall field.

Diffley said also that the Moose players had voted against this and want the game played off at the E. & A. field.

It is understood the league rules say that managers have the right to shift games to whatever field is decided upon.

With the race tied and the managers deadlocked, it appears that President M. J. Donovan should act quickly if the teams are to play the game Sunday afternoon.

Langan Is Now Hole-In-Oner

William E. "Bill" Langan, 1909 Albert street, manager of the J. C. Penny Company store, has been playing golf for about 25 years and this is the first time he ever came close to fame, in fact he came so close on the Fourth of July at the New Castle Field Club course that he made a hole-in-one on the short Number 13 green.

Langan now joins that great and distinctive group of men who have made holes-in-one and there aren't many of them in the country either. "Who said 13 was an unlucky number," said Langan in speaking of his feat.

Playing with Mr. Langan and witnessing the sensational shot were John W. McIlwraith, Jack Miller, Joe Green and Dr. David Perry.

Langan hit a beautiful iron shot and had the satisfaction of watching the ball light on the green and then slowly trickle into the cup for his coveted hole-in-one.

RELEASED FROM BRONZE. Charlie Clark has been released from the Johnson Bronze baseball team, according to Manager Michael Diffley.

In the battle of Jutland in 1916, there were only 252 warships on both sides.

Legion Junior Race Tightens Up

Fannins Defeat Cozy Corners For Second Time During First Half Race

Fannins, with McPeak in top form, again took the measure of Cozy Corners, and tightened up the race in the American Legion Junior league, winning by the score of 7-6. On June 14, Fannins took their first fall out of the league leaders, when they won by a 9-3 score.

While McPeak was touched for nine safeties by the Cozy Corners, he tightened up in the clutches. Andrews, on the other hand, got away to a bad start, Bevan's triple in the fourth inning, with the bases loaded, drove in the winning tally. Fannins could not score after that, and with a 7-1 lead, it looked like an overwhelming victory. Cozy Corners came back in the sixth and seventh innings, however, scoring five runs, but were still one short.

Tonight, B. & O. plays the B. & O. trainmen. Dean Park, right on the heels of the Cozy's, defeated Wolverines, 5-4. Liebenfelder and H. Liebenfelder teaming up to form the bat-teries in the Dean Park nine, and Liebenfelder hurled a one-hitter, but errors proved costly. Dean Park had one big inning, the second when they scored four runs. H. Liebenfelder led at bat with three hits, including a double. Wasilewski hit. Wolverines only hit. Liebenfelder fanned 15 batters.

North Hill Cardinals defeated Mooneys, the new entry in the league by a score of 11-1 at Washington field. Lautenslauger and Preston kept six hits by the Mooneys well scattered, while getting had homers for the winners, while Allison hit a triple.

Score by innings: R H E
Cozy Corners...100 003 2-6 9 2
Fannins...202 300 x-7 6 1

U. E. & F. Alcos Will Play Sunday

Benefit Game At Booker T. Washington Field Sunday For Pat Seybert

Sunday at the Booker T. Washington field the U. E. & F. baseball team will play the Alcos at 2:45 o'clock for the benefit of Pat Seybert, local U. E. & F. player who suffered a fractured knee in a recent game at Mahoningtown.

A collection at the game will be taken to help defray the hospital expenses of Seybert who may not get back to work for several months. The game will no doubt be hard fought as both teams have many stars in the lineup. The Alcos will pitch either Dean or Thornton, with Manager John Rubick probably pitching either Tillie, Kreuser or Davies. Fabian will be behind the bat for the U. E. & F. team.

Bright Outlook Facing Eagles

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—(INS)—The 1944 football campaign loomed brighter today for the Philadelphia Eagles with the return of two of last year's veterans—Halback Jack Hinkle and Larry Cabrelli.

Hinkle set the season high for one game when he carried the ball 26 times from scrimmage against the Washington Redskins, Nov. 28. Cabrelli, who starts his fourth season, has caught 31 passes for 538 yards and scored 24 points.

The Eagles will begin training Aug. 18 for their opening game Sept. 12 against the newly merged Chicago Cardinals-Pittsburgh Steelers at Shibe Park in Philadelphia.

CAMPFIRE CORNER

OLD APATHY

I was paddling a canoe across a small bay in a northern lake the other day when I spotted what I believed at first to be a beaver, swimming in my direction. The beast didn't act like a beaver, however. Despite the fact that I was in plain view he didn't divert from his straightforward course. A beaver would have dived, and reappeared some distance away, or at least have changed his objective, but not this fellow. He kept right on coming, somehow aware that a straight line is the closest distance between two points and intent on some arboreal refuge on the near shore, though why one tree should be any better than another from a porcupine's point of view is beyond me. That's what he was, a porcupine, by reason of the hollow quills that support him in the water, is said to be one of our best swimmers. This one would have climbed right over my canoe if I hadn't paddled out of his way. Aporcupine, or sensu, insensibility, indifference, a member of the animal kingdom other than the South American sloth is more deserving of the appellation apathetic than is our north woods porcupine. In other words, he's just plain dumb.

Spared His Life

Contrary to the rules of this locale I spared the life of this particular specimen, not being able to picture him as doing a great deal of damage among the little poplars that lined the shore for which he was headed. However, porcupines are anathematized in this region, and many other places, as destroyers of trees, nuisance because of their habit of gnawing almost everything about camp and because their quills frequently kill or injure dogs.

There was a time, years ago, when Old Apathy was protected because he was a walking meat supply for anyone lost in the woods—so confident in his bristling armor that he seldom retreated very far or very speedily and fell easy victim to a club. But times have changed. Nowadays every forester, farmer and trapper considers it his duty to make away with all the porcupines he encounters.

Porcupines are unusually plentiful around here. I shot one out of the top of a balsam the other day with a .22 pistol and the resultant crash to the ground inspired my Labrador pup to more excitement than he's ever before experienced. I'm afraid that when he runs across one in his own he's going to bring a lot of grief upon himself.

Softball League Meeting Tonight

An important meeting of all managers and officials of the Industrial softball league will be held this evening at the "Y" at 8:30 o'clock.

The meeting will be for the purpose of settling the matter of umpires for the various league "fifts. Several men, it is understood, have signified their desire to umpire the softball games and each manager should attend the meeting and hand in his list of umpires, or at least be present to express his opinions regarding the matter.

The schedule for tonight in the league will be as follows:
Johnson Bronze vs P. R. R., Liberty street.
I. A. Machinists vs Universals, Cedar street.

Standard Steel Springs vs She-nango Pottery, Gaston park.

Before the war tobacco was the leading industry in the annual $100,000,000 of money in newspaper advertising. The automobile industry was next, followed by food industry and toilet goods in the order named.

Presbyterians Are Closer To Title

First Half In New Castle Church Golf League At Castle Hills Ends Next Week

First Presbyterian church golf team is a step closer today to the first-half championship of the New Castle church golf league at the Castle Hills course as a result of the close matches last evening. The Presbyterians lead by two points over the Harbor U. P. team 22½ to 20½.

The Harbor lost an opportunity to gain last night with the Presbyterians being defeated for the first time this season 3½ to 2½, but the Harbor could gain but 2½ points over the Epworth team last night. Mahoning plays the First Presbyterians next week and the "red-hot" Seventh Warders are liable to upset the apple-cart for the league leaders.

Several Low Cards

The following turned in low cards for the play last evening—38's, Ted Woodrow and William Nunn; 39's, Lou Lautenslauger and Ed Miller; 40's, Don Munford, Paul Hunt and Tom Baum; 41's, Clyde Gilliland, Ed Long; Dave Astor, Andy Paytas and Charles P. Bug, and Walter.

Result of the matches last evening were as follows—
First Baptist 4—Mahoning Churches 2.
First Christians 3½—First Presbyterians 2.

Epworth 3½—Harbor U. P. 2½.
First U. P. 3½—Highland U. P. 2½.

Following is the standing of the league to date with one more match left in the first-half—First Presbyterians 22½; Harbor U. P. 20½; Epworth 17½; Highland U. P. 17½; Epworth 17½; Mahoning 16½; First U. P. 16½; First Christians 15½.

The schedule for next Thursday night—
Mahoning vs First Presbyterians.
First U. P. vs Harbor U. P.
Epworth vs Highland U. P.
First Baptist vs First Christians.

Senators-Browns In Relief Game

Immortal Walter Johnson And Muddy Ruel Will Take Part In Benefit Game

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(INS)—Some 30,000 fans are expected to be on hand at Griffith Stadium tonight when the Washington Senators meet the St. Louis Browns in a war relief baseball game.

Prominent among the spectators who also will address the fans will be Tech. Sgt. Charles "Commando" Kelly of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Lieut. Ernest "Children of Broken Bow" Okla., heroic dough boys who won the Congressional Medal of Honor for bravery in the Italian campaign.

Also on the program will be special speed races at 50 yards featuring sprints involving catchers, pitchers and a combination race of infielders and outfielders of the two clubs. Winners will receive 50 war bonds.

Walter Johnson and Muddy Ruel, Washington's great pennant winning battery of 1925-26, will swing into action as the former speed balling pitcher to Joe Kuhle, Ossie Bluege and Luke Sewell, survivors of the Senators' last championship club of 1933.

SEEK GAMES

The Second Turn Brass Shop baseball team of the Johnson Bronze would like to book games with any fast teams of the district for morning games only. For games call 1781-W before 2:30 and ask for Nick.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

DeHart Hubbard

20 years ago today: DeHart Hubbard, Michigan star, ran the 100 yards in 9.04 to tie the world record; 10 years ago Hank Bonura hit his fifteenth home run as the Chicago White Sox lost to the Browns, 3 and one year ago Harry Stuhlinger, named head coach of the College All-Stars for their game with the Washington Redskins, pro champs.

More than 170,000 persons, an increase of nearly 40,000 over last year, spent Independence day in a major league ball park, an attendance survey disclosed today. The largest crowd of the day, 37,579, found its way into New York's Yankee stadium to watch the world champions drop two games to the Cleveland Indians.

Bing Crosby and Bruce McCornick beat Bob Hope and Johnny Dawson 2 and 1 in a $100,000 war bond golf match at the Los Angeles Country club Independence day. Joseph Fromuth, Reading, Pa., Catholic high school third baseman has been distinguished as the unanimous choice of contest judges to represent the Philadelphia district in an eastern all-American boys' baseball game at the Polo grounds, New York, August 7.

U. S. Coastguardsman Clayton Farrar of New London, Conn., one of the nation's outstanding distance runners, holds a new record for the 15-kilometer distance. Farrar, competing in the amateur athletic union race July 4, covered the distance, approximately nine and a half miles, in 50:11 to crack the mark of 51:29 held by Lt. Joe McCuskey of New York. John Kelley of West Acton, who finished second to Farrar, also broke the old mark when he was clocked in 51:9 as did Army Sgt. Norman Bright, who was third in 51:23.

LION LAIR IS BIG

One of the largest college gymnasiums in the East is Penn State's Recreation Hall, which seats 6,000 people. Its playing floor occupies 16,690 square feet.

ALL GOOD NEIGHBORS

Penn State will play four Pennsylvania eleven, two Maryland and two New York state teams, and one West Virginia rival on the gridiron this fall.

Brazil, the largest state in South America, exceeds the size of the continental United States exclusive of Alaska by 230,000 square miles.

Pep And Joyce Battle Tonight

Chicago Fight Crowd Goes Crazy Over Lightweight Battle, Expect Big Crowd

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, July 7.—Portrait of a meandering reporter, making memos on his knee: There was about $12,000 advance in the till Wednesday night when they put the shutter up for the evening on the Willie Pep-Willie Joyce sale for tonight's organized brawl at Comiskey Park. That means if the weather is right, they'll come out with a gross they hope of better than $45,000... which certainly isn't flaxseed in a case like this. Or any other.

Pep Favored

Of course, if the weather isn't right for outdoor promotion, even a return match between David and Goliath won't draw designs on a wash room wall. But here's one funny symptom.

Pep's price is still 2-1, although the scale weights are dead against him and a couple of guys bet $500 each on Joyce.

Symptom No. 2 (equally bleary-eyed): Pep already has a Juan Zurita engagement lined up for Madison Square Garden... which means they'll be fighting in New York for the N.B.A. lightweight championship, which further means that one of the few places where the fight will receive no title recognition is in New York.

Slide Best Horse

George Drum, winner of the $50,000 Stars and Stripes at Arlington the other day, isn't supposed to be the best horse in Allen Drum-beller's barn. By the way, the latter is said to be Slide, whom Drum-beller had all ready for the Arlington Classic and Washington Park Derby, each worth $30,000. And then forgot to enter him.

Incidentally, they say George Drum could have been claimed a year or so ago for $700.

PHILADELPHIA BOY WINS TENNIS TITLE

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—(INS)—Samuel Handel, 17-year-old Philadelphia high school boy, wore the Pennsylvania State junior tennis crown today after crushing defending champion Dick Betson 6-2, 6-3, 6-0 at the Cynwud club in a fast 70-minute final.

In the oversized borrowed shoes he wore while capturing two other single titles this year, Handel flashed over the court to keep Betson on the go with cross-court placements and net dropshots.

His win reversed last year's game when Betson edged him out in a five-set match for the junior crown.

What Churches Need

Springs without machines, gas without motors and keys without locks are likewise of little use. This is the situation today with most churches and preachers. They fail to emphasize the scientific basis for their teachings and also fail to apply spiritual power to practical everyday life. Any religion which does not express itself in right living and social relations is of little use.

The postwar planning committees and present-day educational and religious institutions need to recognize both the importance of spiritual power and just social relations. To continue to ignore such will certainly result in 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 unemployed in the U. S. after the short postwar boom is over.

Material Power Not Enough

Land, labor and capital are material; while integrity, initiative and inspiration are spiritual powers. They may either be inherited or acquired, but at all hazards they must be recognized in successful planning. This applies both to national planning and to the planning of our own personal lives as individuals.

Even land, labor and capital can be used to destroy or to construct, according to the integrity, initiative and inspiration of those who have the land, labor and capital. Hence, I call these three spiritual powers the "Three I's Of Success."

I have in mind both individual and national success. Spiritual Vs. Radio Waves. When discussing the above with industrialists and labor leaders, they agree with my statements; but they come back to me as follows: "How can this spiritual power—God's Rays as you call it—be developed and harnessed? It is not enough for preachers, priests and rabbis to talk about it, let them show us how to get it and use it." It is probably true that we have generalized too much and too long about spiritual power. The time has come to be practical.

C. F. Kettering—vice president in charge of research of General Motors—once brought to my attention that electricity was talked about as far back as 2,500 years ago. It was in 600 B. C. that a Greek philosopher, Thales of Miletus, found that by rubbing amber he could develop a force to pick up straws. Even 300 years ago experiments were made by William Gilbert in England and Von Guericke in Germany which caused electricity to be talked about as the "coming power." Yet nothing practical was attempted until Franklin flew his kite in 1746 and Faraday built his toy motor in 1825. Then came Morse with his telegraph, Bell with the telephone, Edison with his lamp and Marconi with radio waves.

Encourage Spiritual Adventure. It truly seems that the harnessing of spiritual waves—the seeds of integrity, initiative and inspiration—is where electricity was 100 years ago. If so, the greatest need of the postwar era is to teach people where to find spiritual power and how to use it. "Mind your T's" does not necessarily mean describing what it is. We do not even yet know what electricity is. We, however, do know how to generate and use it.

The Open Church Movement—in which I am greatly interested—is a step in this direction. Its purpose is to get people into churches alone by themselves, not only on Sundays but at any time during the week when they feel the need for private meditation and prayer. The Christian Science church, the New Thought Associations, the Unity Groups, the Daily Meditation Centers at San Antonio and elsewhere and Dr. Frank N. D. Buchman are all talking about spiritual power and what it can do. The great need, however, is for carefully planned and executed laboratory data which will command greater respect than mere words.

June Graduates Attention. Those who have just graduated from high schools and colleges should especially heed the thoughts I have presented. You may have got marks of 100 per cent in every subject and still be as useless as "sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal." You may well find yourself priceless watches without springs, 12-cylinder motors without gas or burglar-proof locks without keys. In fact, I feel so strongly about this entire matter that I believe the greatest of all postwar needs is spiritual awakening. If so, we all should make our primary task the discovering of methods of harnessing God's Rays which are now all about us but practically unused. Then the greatest changes ahead may not be in conjunction with aviation or plastics or chemistry but in connection with those intangible forces which develop integrity, initiative and inspiration.

Three Cars Crash On Butler Road

Three-car accident occurred at 8 o'clock last night near Willow Brook on the Butler-New Castle highway. Three drivers were shaken up. The cars were damaged to some extent. According to the State Police, Joseph McCormick, R. D. 1, Arthur Dean, R. D. 6, and Philip H. Rigby, 210 Pearson street, were the operators. Dean and McCormick were driving east and McCormick reportedly was on the wrong side of the road and the car of Rigby going west hit McCormick's car. His tire went flat and his car then struck Dean's car, the State police reported.
